Dear Customers and Employees,

It's been over six months since the start of regional efforts to drive Covid-19 out of our community. We're back in the office. Actually, as an essential business, we never left. To our essential team members, thank you for your service. To our customers, thank you, we are here for you.

- Many of our customers have worked with our Customer Service Team to modify collection schedules. If you need additional changes, please contact us at CustomerService@MrTCarting.com
- Our sales team is observing social distancing and using facemask protocols when meeting on-site with our customers.
- We continue to restrict visitors from our office.
- Drivers and helpers start times are staggered as a precautionary measure to allow social distancing at our facilities.

Thank you for your trust; we appreciate your flexibility and support during this difficult time.

Very truly yours,
